

Cinenova: Sharlene Bamboat + Ali El-Darsa - Throwback

Sun Mar 04 2012
3:00 PM – 6:00 PM

FREE

Gladstone Hotel Ballroom, 1214 Queen Street West

Cinenova is a non-profit womens' film/video distributor based in London, UK. Cinenova is knowledge more publicly accessible. We are very pleased to present a series of events that access, activate and animate the Cinenova collection here in Toronto under the banner of Cinenova: All Hands on the Archive.

THE POWER PLANT

To close the month of Cinenova, we will be hosting a party at the Gladstone Hotel that will also feature a newly commissioned performance by Toronto-based artist Sharlene Bamboat responding to the Cinenova collection and the themes and ideas surrounding it. Drawing from her daily life, Sharlene Bamboat's work in film, video and performance embodies themes of mobility and fragmented identity, migration and homeland, and how the queer body relates to architectural spaces of in-between-ness. Bamboat's performance, Throwback, will be in collaboration with Montreal-based artist Ali El Darsa, and explores the transformative nature of archiving and the intertwining histories of performance and video documentation.

The party will conclude with Rebels Rule, a screening featuring Will Munro's films and his appearances in films, curated by G.B. Jones, Alex McClelland, Leila Pourtavaf, and Lex Vaughan for the Art Gallery of York University.

#

An initiative of the Feminist Art Gallery, The Power Plant and the Art Gallery of York University, in conjunction with their retrospective exhibition Will Munro: History, Glamour, Magic, running 11 January – 11 March, 2012.

The Power Plant

231 Queens Quay West
Toronto, Ontario M5J 2G8 Canada
Harbourfront Centre

416.973.4949

info@thepowerplant.org

All Year, All Free

Free admission to the gallery all year thanks to BMO Financial Group